

Blues Intros

The most common four-bar blues intros are generally based around the last four bars of a standard 12-bar blues progression.

TAB: 2 1 2 0 2 0 2 | 0 2 0 2 0 2 0 | 0 5 5 4 4 3 3 | 0 0 1

Another typical blues intro is to use a descending line based around only the tonic chord. Notice the triplet picking pattern.

Similar to the last intro, this lick uses the open first string as a pedal tone as the second string's notes descend.

TAB: 0 2 5 2 5 4 2 4 3 2 3 | 0 0 0 1 | 5 0 5 3 0 3 2 0 2 1 0 1 | 0 2 3 4

This intro uses a descending dominant 7th shape. The picking pattern is in the following order: 3rd, 1st, & 2nd string.

♩. = 60

TAB: 4 3 4 3 3 2 3 2 | 2 1 2 1 0 1 0 0 | 4 3 4 3 3 2 3 2 | 2 1 2 1 0
